Experience the Amazing South African Human Services, Social Development, and Culture
Visit and work side by side with colleagues in Local Organizations

Durban, Cape Town, Langa, Robben Island, Johannesburg, Pilanesberg, and Soweto

The purpose of this 6-credit undergraduate (or 3 credit graduate) SUNY New Paltz International Social Welfare course is to study the South African social welfare and social development system and immerse ourselves in the South African culture.

The program includes:

- Visiting and working alongside colleagues in human services programs, governmental, and non-governmental organizations providing services to children and youth, people with disabilities, and people living with and affected by HIV/AIDS along with other social development programs.
- Visiting sites of historical, cultural, and political interest in Durban (KwaZulu-Natal province), Cape Town and Langa (Western Cape province) and in Johannesburg and Soweto (Gauteng province).
- Participating in and presenting at the South African National Association for Child Care Workers bi-annual conference in Durban. See: http://www.naccw.org.za
- Collaborating and spending a weekend with students from Durban University of Technology. See: http://www.dut.ac.za/faculty/health_sciences/child_and_youth_care/
- Experiencing the wilderness with South African colleagues (and sleeping under the stars!). See: http://www.educo.org.za

Undergraduate SUNY New Paltz Student Cost: $6,341 (6 credits)
